Things have changed

I thought about just skipping this issue. I can't properly distribute them anyways.

But, we are all still here. We are just socializing at a distance for now. So I decided to make PH #4 available online.

I'd never planned on sharing digital editions. I liked the idea of having to travel to a local spot once a month to pick up your hard copy. But that's not happening for a while.

This seems like a perfect time to promote Pin Headz social media!

Tournament Recap

Louisville Arcade Expo

March 6-8 was the 10th annual Louisville Arcade Expo. The show featured pinball, arcade games, cosplay, PC gaming and vintage console games. You could also find a variety of vendors selling various goods and wares.

The Saturday tournament drew 70 players. They played 5 rounds of qualifying followed by a 6 progressive strike finals. The games ranged from eclectic titles like Game Plan's Captain Hook to newer games like Metallica. Bill Bagget from Memphis, TN won the event taking home cash, a trophy and over 40 WPPRs.

The tournament on Sunday was a ladder with 41 people playing two rounds of group matchplay to determine seeding. Chad Hobbs, who qualified mid pack, stayed alive long enough to win. The format isn't worth a ton of points, but Chad also received $288 and a trophy.

Locations

All locations are closed

All pinball tournaments are postponed or cancelled.

We all miss hanging out and playing pinball, but these locations, their owners and employees are hurting far worse. Please support them. Buy gift cards. Plan parties. Donate. Reach out and let them know you care. And until we can all meet again...

Twitch

Twitch.tv is a website that lets people stream video games and pinball live. So you can still WATCH people play pinball live if you don't have a machine at home.

Check out these local streamers on twitch.

There was a tall man with no tilt

Nudging always filled him with guilt

They will think I'm a cheat

Plus my play is elite

And I don't want to fall off my stilts
